Preface

There has been much confusion over what is the Great Reset, and many simply ask if it is a conspiracy theory? The New York Times had the audacity to claim it was such a conspiracy they're trying to hide the agenda just as they tried to hide the millions who were starving in Ukraine because of Stalin which they decided the ends justified the means because Communism would be our salvation (see movie Mr. Jones).

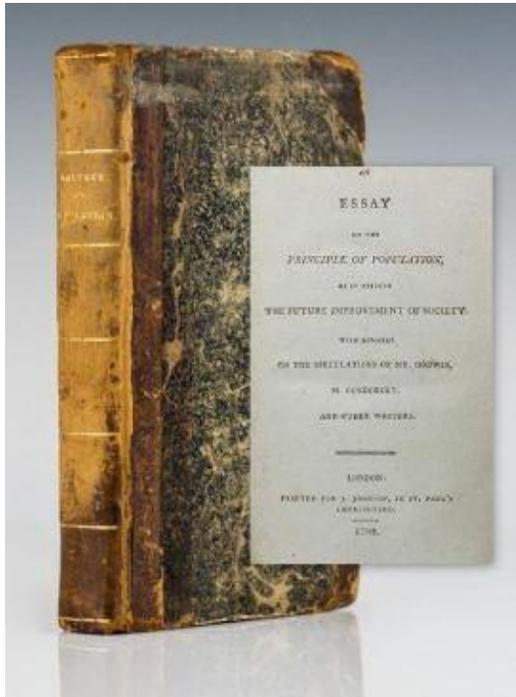

While the New York Times has once again been hiding the truth, other have at least announced there was such a thing as the Great Reset. The BBC on November 22, 2020 <sup>1</sup>, ran the headline: "The coronavirus pandemic 'Great Reset' theory and a false vaccine claim debunked." With the World Economic Forum putting out videos promoting the Great Reset, why is mainstream media so desperate to hide the truth from the people as they did with Stalin?

Preface

Thomas Malthus
(1766-1834)

Simultaneously, all we hear is that the world is doomed because we have too many people always implying that the herd needs to be culled. Ever since Thomas Malthus (1766–1834) started the ball rolling with his publication in his 1798 book An Essay on the Principle of Population, which he penned anonymously fearing to put his name on it. This 18th-century British philosopher and economist before there were degrees, set in motion this theory which has never died.

Jeffrey David Sachs, the American economist and academic at Columbia University, also runs around promoting depopulation, arguing that in third world countries, people still have 4 to 6 kids. He obviously fails to understand that the birth rate declines with industrialization and in an agrarian society, the parents need the children to keep the farming going and for their own retirement before all of this Marxist socialism took hold to replace the family with government programs. Jeffrey Sachs has been preaching why benefits of globalization aren't equally distributed and that is the crisis we face in true Marxist terms.

Preface

Jeffrey Sachs has shown the problem with academics with no real-world experience. He convinced others to fund his idea of creating his theory of a Millennium Villages Project which he claimed would target more than a dozen sub-Saharan villages in Africa and imposed an integrated approach to help these villages to achieve the U.N. Millennium Development Goals to address poverty, health, gender equality, and disease, which was really about depopulation.

Funding was provided by World Bank loans, governments, and private contributions, to create these pilot villages in the 10 project sites by improving access to safe drinking water, primary education, basic health care, and other science-based interventions such as better seeds and fertilizer.

The project was a classic disaster and a total waste of hundreds of millions of dollars. There were fundamental methodological falsehoods because they did not understand that an agrarian society needs large families to survive. There was no scientific evidence that the project attained any of its goals.

Even Sachs himself in this Lancet Global Health perspective, had to admit that while the outcomes on poverty were mixed and impacts on nutrition and education often inconclusive, “the lessons learned from the MVP are highly pertinent.”

Why Jeffrey Sachs Matters

May 21, 2014 | BILL GATES

In international development, critics hold up every misstep – like that of economist Jeffrey Sachs’s Millennium Development Villages – as proof that aid is like throwing money down a rat hole. But trying to do something as hard as fighting poverty and disease requires a willingness to fail, learn, and try again.

It was such a total disaster that Bill Gates even tried to defend the project writing in project Syndicate: “But trying to do something as hard as fighting poverty and disease requires a willingness to fail, learn, and try again.”

Of course, Bill Gates defended this failure, because the real objectives here is all about the reduction of population.<sup>2</sup>

Klaus Schwab is a control freak. He has a ZERO tolerance for error in the World Economic Forum. He is the perfect man to lead the world revolution he has called "The Great Reset". In his own words, he explains very clearly this idea which infects academia among economists. Unlike those in the real world of physics where we observe nature to understand how it functions, economists believe that they possess the mental capacity to change the world and redesign the future.

In academics, the economists do not believe in observing how the global economy functions. They believe that they have the intellect to reconstruct it in the image of their own dreams, which therefore means they possess the true ability to lead the world and nations.

To understand your adversary, you must look deep at their motivations.

Schwab, Archbishop Câmara & Pope Francis

Archbishop Hélder Pessoa Câmara
(1909–1999)

What we must understand is that the philosophy behind this cabal is clearly Marxism. It's origin, which influenced Klaus Schwab, was a Brazilian priest who was Archbishop Hélder Pessoa Câmara (1909–1999). This one man has influenced far more than most people are possibly aware. He was of the Brazilian Catholic Church and a self-proclaimed Marxist. He was the Archbishop of Olinda and Recife between 1964 to 1985. He is not to be confused with Cardinal Jaime de Barros Câmara (1894–1971) who was elevated to the cardinalate in 1946 by Pope Pius XII. From 1962 to 1965, it was Cardinal Câmara who attended the Second Vatican Council who was anti-Communism and assisted Leo Joseph Suenens in delivering one of the closing messages of the Council delivered on December 8, 1965.

It was Archbishop Câmara who disagreed with the Church's conclusion of the Second Vatican Council. He attended all four sessions of that proceeding and even played a very important role in drafting Gaudium et spes. However, on November 16th, 1965, Archbishop Câmara led 40 bishops who met at night secretly in the Catacombs of Domitilla outside Rome on the Via Appia Antica which is spread over 17 kilometers underground.

Catacombs of Domitilla

It was this secret meeting where a conspiracy was hatched that some believe will lead to the destruction of Capitalism and the entire financial system as we know it. In this underground secret meeting like the Christians hid from the Roman authorities, this group of 40 renegade priests signed a secret document under the title of the Pact of the Catacombs with 13 points which were inspired by Karl Marx.

This small group of militant Marxist priests meeting in secret has been the beginning of an existential threat to our very future. South America has been unable to rise above Marxism, because this Pact of the Catacombs has been part of the Catholic Church in that region. Without authority from Rome, the church in South America adopted the doctrine of the Pact of the Catacombs led by its mastermind – Archbishop Hélder Pessoa Câmara. Despite the fact it was never sanctioned by the Vatican, the papacy was usurped by installing a Pope from South America. It has been Pope Francis who has practiced this distorted doctrine his whole life, for it focuses on the material inequality in life making material wealth the focus rather than on the spiritual concerns for the soul. Section #10 of that Catacomb Pact reads:

“We will do our utmost so that those responsible for our government and for our public services make, and put into practice, laws, structures and social institutions required by justice and charity, equality and harmonic and holistic development of all men and women, and by this means bring about the advent of another social order, worthy of the sons and daughters of mankind and of God.”

1974

In the Midst of Recession

In 1974 and 1975, the oil crisis plunged the world into a serious economic recession. While the European Management Forum was not immune to the impact of the downturn, it weathered the storm. “Although the looming signs of stagnation and recession in the European and international economy led to budget cuts in a number of companies, perceptible mainly in the plunge of professional training, the European Management Forum did not suffer from this tendency – to the contrary, it seems that the policy of the foundation to offer services fostering above all a better understanding of the European and international political, economic and social development meets with a higher response in these periods of crisis,” Klaus Schwab wrote in the Annual Report of the Foundation. “The economic situation has had an influence on the Forum inasmuch as special efforts were undertaken to reduce overall costs and to boost quality and utility of its different activities.”<sup>1</sup>

At the 1974 European Management Symposium, Dom Hélder Câmara, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Olinda and Recife, Brazil, made a notable appearance, bolstering the Forum’s role as a platform for provocative yet vital voices. Câmara had been invited to Davos despite the fact that he was considered persona non grata by many governments and business leaders. He had dubbed himself “the spokesperson of those two-thirds of humanity who suffer from the unfair distribution of nature’s resources.”

In his address, Dom Hélder predicted that developing countries could some day challenge and clash with the leading economic powers. “Let’s hope by the Almighty God that this confrontation will not force them into using arms.” He criticized multinationals for keeping so much of mankind in appalling conditions. He called for a higher social responsibility, fairer wealth distribution and a reassessment of “the false values of a ‘waste society’” to achieve prosperity for all people.

After having provided a platform for the Club of Rome report The Limits to Growth, which attracted a great deal of publicity for the 1973 meeting, the Forum intensified its emphasis on environmental issues, inviting Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau, the renowned French naval officer

Paragraph 10 of the Catacombs Pact

Schwab in his younger years appeared to have had this drive to always try to meet world leaders and famous people. He wanted to meet Archbishop Hélder Pessoa Câmara because he was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize in 1973 by the American Friends Service Committee. Câmara was awarded the Pacem in Terris Award. It was named after a 1963 encyclical letter by Pope John XXIII that calls upon all people of good will to secure peace among all nations.

Despite the fact that in 1973 the Nobel Peace Prize went to Henry Kissinger who was awarded it but had to share it with Le Duc Tho for having negotiated a cease fire in Vietnam.

Klaus Schwab stated that this meeting was so important because it was, according to him, Câmara's teachings of communism changed his life. Schwab then invited Câmara to speak at Davos in 1974 but he was blacklisted for being a communist. Schwab pulled strings back then to bring him to Switzerland.

Rediscovery of the Business Cycle
by Paul A. Volcker 1978

Indeed, Archbishop Câmara spoke at Davos in 1974. From that time onward, Schwab has been trying to influence world leaders and convince them it is time to adopt Marxism. Note, when Archbishop Câmara addressed the Davos meeting of capitalists, there was a time of economic crisis as well. This was the first major recession which exposed that the idea of Keynesianism proved incorrect. Just like the Great Depression and the New York Times supporting Stalin's Communism as the solution, Schwab saw Câmara's Marxism as the solution. It was Paul Volcker who delivered his famous Rediscovery of the Business Cycle in 1979 stating.

"The Rediscovery of the Business Cycle – is a sign of the times. Not much more than a decade ago, in what now seems a more innocent age, the 'New Economics' had become orthodoxy. Its basic tenet, repeated in similar words in speech after speech, in article after article, was described by one of its leaders as 'the conviction that business cycles were not inevitable, that government policy could and should keep the economy close to a path of steady real growth at a constant target rate of unemployment.'"

Câmara, who was apparently the most influential person in Schwab's life based upon his statements, was an advocate of Liberation Theology, which is a theory that emphasizing the liberation of the oppressed must be the objective. The foundation is Marxism engaging socio-economic analyses, rather than theology, pushing economic materialism rather than spiritual objectives.

Liberation Theology argues for the social concern for the poor and political liberation for oppressed peoples whereby its core is "inequality" materially claimed to be driven by race or caste rather than ability. Câmara admitted he is famous for saying:

"When I give food to the poor, they call me a saint. When I ask why they are poor, they call me a communist."

The screenshot shows the World Economic Forum website. At the top right is the logo for the World Economic Forum. Below it is a navigation menu with the items: Agenda, Events, Reports, and Platforms. The main heading is "Pope Francis". Below this is a section titled "Most Popular" which contains two article cards. The first card on the left features a photo of Pope Francis smiling and clapping, with the text "ROLE OF RELIGION" in blue, "Pope Francis's message to Davos 2018 in full" in bold, a short paragraph: "The Pope tells delegates that it is a moral imperative to create the right conditions to allow each person to live in a dignified manner.", and the date "22 Jan 2018". The second card on the right features a photo of Pope Francis speaking at a podium, with the text "My message to the World Economic Forum in Davos" in bold, and the date "21 Jan 2014".

Indeed, Schwab invited Pope Francis to speak at Davos in January 2014 just after he was made Pope displaying, he knew they shared the same economic Marxist philosophy. Pope Francis' message to the World Economic Forum gathered at Davos, Switzerland was the first time a pope ever delivered a message directly the participants at a high-level economic forum.

Schwab knew that Pope Francis was going to implement the Pact of the Catacombs since this was a fundamental militant philosophy that had been ingrained in South America which prevented the continent from rise out of poverty. Indeed, Pope Francis' message at Davos reflected his deep communist beliefs and instead of being concerned about the salvation of the soul, he has led the Church into a Marxist agenda joining Schwab talking more about the economy and "inequality" rather than salvation. But Pope Francis has also reversed the Church prohibition of contraceptives also supporting depopulation.

The Pact of the Catacombs

There are some who argue that Pope Francis is the last pope Saint Malachy predicted would be "Peter the Roman" but at his age, I do not think he will make it to 2032. That said, there is a serious risk that Pope Francis may bring the Catholic Church to a major tribulation (civil war) as they say because he has abandoned religion advocating communism.

Interestingly, Jorge Mario Bergoglio became Pope Francis on March 13, 2013, when he was named the 266th pope of the Roman Catholic Church. If we plot a straightforward 51.6-year wave from the signing of the Pact of the Catacombs, interestingly, that is when Bergoglio became Pope Francis at the peak of that wave. This was spot on for a 51.6-year wave beginning with the signing of that secret Pact of the Catacombs on November 16th, 1965. It was June 1st when Trump announced the US is withdrawing from the Paris Climate Agreement and by 22nd UK Prime Minister Theresa May announced that citizens of the EU living in the UK will be able to acquire a "UK settled status" after the UK leaves the EU. If this is indeed a valid turning point, then October 2021 should be important.

Socialism Violates the Ten Commandments

Karl Heinrich Marx (1818-1883)

You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant or maidservant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor.

Exodus 20:17

Curiously, looking at this from a purely mathematical perspective, being the 266th Pope, if we divide that by 8.6 we arrive at 30.9. Consequently, my concern would be for the next Pope which would be a derivative of Pi. Given that the model projects that Schwab will fail, since Marxism is against human nature and even the Ten Commandments, it would not surprise me that there is an upheaval in the Church and that the next Pope will be a reaction to the material doctrines of Pope Francis who is fully cooperating with Schwab.

I do not see how Pope Francis' support for the Pact of the Catacombs does not violate everything the Church has stood for through the past 265 popes being concerned with spiritual survival – not material. Ironically, there were 148 emperors/caesars until the fall of Rome which was 17.2 x 8.6. It is questionable that this prophecy of Saint Malachy is to end with Peter the Roman. The last Roman Emperor was named Romulus Augustus which is the combination of the names of Romulus who founded Rome and Augustus who was the first imperial emperor.

Economic Confidence Model

Private Wave (1985-2037)

72-Year Cycle of Revolution

I have always warned that there is also a 72-year wave in Revolutions. That means there is a great risk for the Church 72 years from the Pact of the Catacombs which will be 2037. This aligns with the conclusion of this 51.6-year wave. The convergence of these two models in 2037 is simply indicative of the monumental changes that are taking place because people like Schwab think they can actually construct the future of the economy as was the same conclusion of Karl Marx.

Copyright 2012 Martin Armstrong All Rights Reserved

Therefore, this target of 72-years lining up with the signing of this Pact of the Catacombs which appears to have influenced Klaus Schwab and his major effort to have Archbishop Hélder Pessoa Câmara speak to Capitalists attending Davos in 1974 may have indeed been a watershed moment that set-in motion the decline and fall of the West as we have known it.

Marcus Aurelius Antoninus

This particular 6th Wave began with the peak of the Roman Empire under Marcus Aurelius. Rome claimed to rule the world (orbis terrarum) but it stood at the opposite end of the world from the strikingly similar Han Dynasty (206BC-220AD) in China, which also claimed to have ruled the world (tianxia). There is the History Book for Tang-Dynasty in China covering the period 618-907AD.

Yet the text mentions 17 times what appears to be the Roman Empire. It also describes an envoy that was sent by the Roman Emperor to China. The Roman Emperor was recorded to have been "Anton". This envoy has been attributed to 166AD during the reign of Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (121-180AD). It is the death of Marcus Aurelius, that has marked the peak in the Roman Empire and the turning point that begins the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire where its monetary system collapses just 72 years thereafter.

This envoy establishing diplomatic contact at the peak in the Roman Empire from which a disastrous decline begins. Any political-economic aspirations to further such a relationship would then die with Marcus Aurelius. Yet also, both empires would suffer the same fate of barbarian invasions. The Han Dynasty falls about 43 years later in 220AD from which emerges the chaotic period known as the Three Kingdoms (220-280AD) – the division of the once unified Chinese Empire.

When Marcus Aurelius died, he was succeeded by his son Commodus who was one of the madmen to rule Rome. The corruption was so outrageous that upon assassinating Commodus, the Praetorian Guard auctioned off the position of Emperor to the highest bidder. That was Didius Julianus(193AD) who managed to cling to the throne for just about five months unleashing yet another civil war.

Didius Julianus
(January 30th - June 1st 193AD)

Today, we are witnessing the corruption has run wild with world leaders on board with Schwab trying to create a new totalitarian regime. They seek to kill Democracy they call "populism" to secure their control and end the capitalistic system of borrowing to fund themselves with no intention of ever paying anything back.

Schwab's World Economic Forum has been an annual corporate celebrity bash in Davos Switzerland, which has been a driving global force behind a move to overthrow market capitalism and profit-maximizing corporations replacing them with a new economic model called "stakeholder capitalism."

Klaus Schwab, German academic economist who founded the WEF in 1973, maintains that in announcing his Davos Manifesto 2020 at the World Economic Forum, argued that there were only three alternatives: shareholder capitalism, state capitalism and stakeholder capitalism. Both shareholder capitalism and state capitalism he simply declares are political poison. This in Schwab's mind, means that the only alternative is stakeholder capitalism whereby corporations must contribute to society as providers of capital to the socialist welfare state. Taking money from investors but not being concerned about shareholder value is ignoring the fundamental of everything – self-interest.

The existing corporate enterprise model, the shareholder version that has dominated much of the world's economic progress over the past century, needs to be replaced in the mind of Schwab. This is not capitalism, but socialism.

"We need a change of mindset, moving from short-term to long-term thinking, moving from shareholder capitalism to stakeholder responsibility. Environmental, social and good governance have to be a measured part of corporate and governmental accountability."

Stakeholder Capitalism

Yet stakeholder capitalism was born in 1932 in their book The Modern Corporation, and Private Property by Adolf A. Berle and Gardiner C. Means.

The idea was that public firms should have professional managers who would balance the claims of different stakeholders, taking into account public policy.

This idea dominated the next 40 years until Milton Friedman draw attention to its failure. There were no social programs in 1932 and it predated Social Security. It became arbitrary and it pitted management against owners. It left to merely confusion for there was no central planning. Companies were simply being solicited for funds and lacked the ability to truly even investigate the use of such funds.

Nevertheless, Klaus Schwab has resurrected this idea which failed like Marxism. It is not even his original idea.

Adolf Augustus Berle Jr.
(1895 - 1971)
Lawyer

Gardiner Coit Means
(1896 - 1988)
Economist

WEC 2020

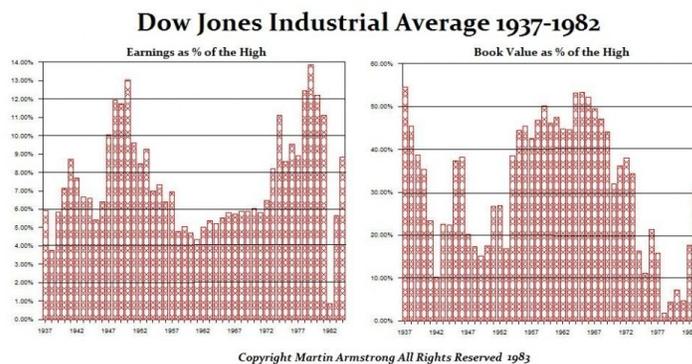

Schwab also has stated in a clip about the 10-year anniversary of his Global Shapers Community posted June 2021, that he was the first to develop Stakeholder Economics.<sup>3</sup> That is simply not true. Stakeholder capitalism is not a new idea. It was launched by the 1932 management classic book, The Modern Corporation, and Private Property by Adolf A. Berle and Gardiner C. Means. They were the first to forth the idea that public firms should have professional managers who would balance the claims of different stakeholders, taking into account public policy.

Stakeholder Economics became obsolete when Roosevelt came to office with the New Deal. This idea was that corporation had a duty to society during a period when there were NO social programs whatsoever. From what I can tell, both Stakeholder Economics and this Great Reset where you will own nothing and be happy, comes from Berle and Means blended with Archbishop Câmara's secret Pact of the Catacombs which was a militant rejection of the very foundation of separation of Church and State. Clearly, I do not see these ideas as being an original thought coming from Klaus Schwab.

In advocating Stakeholder Economics, Schwab has been advocating the abandonment of shareholder rights which defeats the very reason people invest in stocks to begin with. Schwab views all wealth is to be redistributed at least among the bourgeoisie, middle class. When Stakeholder Economics was in play until Milton Friedman came along in 1970, the performance of equities v bonds was dismal – the worst-performing stock market in history.

Not until corporations began to abandon Stakeholder Economics thanks to Milton Friedman's publication criticizing it in 1970, did the market begin to perform. The

This chart shows the end of Stakeholder Economics. The takeover boom unfolded because you could buy a company, sell its assets, and double your money. That simply reflected what Stakeholder Economics was really all about. Share prices had not reflected the net worth of the companies, nor did it have anything to do with dividends.

This is the economics of Schwab and his dream of returning to a system only an academic would love.

Schwab's 4th Industrial Revolution

The Fourth Industrial Revolution, by Klaus Schwab

Ubiquitous, mobile supercomputing. Intelligent robots. Self-driving cars. Neuro-technological brain enhancements. Genetic editing. The evidence of dramatic change is all around us and it's happening at exponential speed.

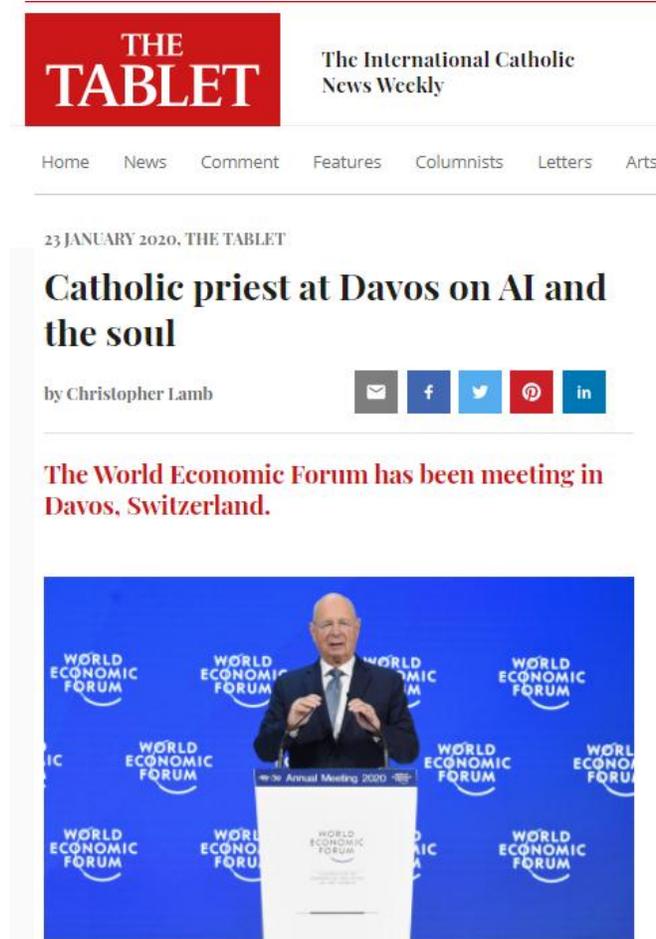

Professor Klaus Schwab, Founder and Executive Chairman of the World Economic Forum, has been at the centre of global affairs for over four decades. He is convinced that we are at the beginning of a revolution that is fundamentally changing the way we live, work and relate to one another, which he explores in his new book, The Fourth Industrial Revolution.

New technologies in society have been at the forefront of what Schwab has been pushing for “hope” looking ahead into the horizon. In March 2016, the personal email account of John Podesta, Hillary Clinton’s campaign chair, was hacked in a spear-phishing attack. WikiLeaks published his emails in November 2016. Proponents of the Pizzagate conspiracy theory claimed the emails contained coded messages that connected several high-ranking Democratic Party officials and U.S. restaurants with an alleged human trafficking and child sex ring. Others claimed that it was a conspiracy to drink the blood of children to prolong life.

While I have never seen any evidence that such an actual ring existed for sex or drinking children’s blood to prolong life, it is very curious that Schwab has been obsessed with prolonging life with implants and there are even people trying to make the movie Transcendence real who have participated at Davos.

The International Catholic News Weekly, The Tablet<sup>4</sup>, reported that Fr Philip Larrey, Chair of Logic and Epistemology at the Pontifical Lateran University, has been in discussions with tech companies about the ethical questions around Artificial Intelligence and robots, took part in a discussion “Faith in the Fourth Industrial Revolution.”

In an interview with the Tablet, Fr Larrey explained obviously that emerging technologies raise questions about immortality and the soul. He elaborated on Silicon Valley’s “heavy investment” was being directed into technologies about how to vastly extend life expectancy and the “transhumanist” movement looking at ways to transfer human consciousness into a digital format.

So, while these same elites are deeply concerned about overpopulation, they are also trying to figure out how to achieve immortality with technology that Schwab is championing. He is 82 years old after all. The Tablet reported:

“The smartest ones [tech companies] want to dialogue with the Catholic Church because we have a 2,000 year tradition about what it means to be human,” he said. “The richness of the Catholic tradition gives us the framework to speak out the technologies we have. How we were created and what is our purpose.”

<sup>4</sup> <https://www.thetablet.co.uk/news/12405/catholic-priest-at-davos-on-ai-and-the-soul>

Schwab's 4th Industrial Revolution

It was Fr Larrey who helped arrange the 2016 meeting between the Pope and Eric Schmidt, the executive chairman of Google holding company Alphabet. Fr Larrey pointed out that "the question of whether we can we really become immortal goes back to the Book of Genesis." He added that Big Tech has no interest in even talking with the Vatican about this subject matter.

Father Philip Larrey

Fr Larrey was quoted by the Tablet explaining: "They want to do their own thing and are pushing ahead with a lot of money with projects to try and keep them immortal, or solve health issues." Fr Larrey has written two books, Connected World and Artificial Humanity. Fr Larrey has been to Davos. He said: "It's freezing cold, and everyone you meet is a VIP who thinks they have been endowed with a right to rule the world."

Schwab has included in his 8 points for his Agenda 2030 that with technology, you will be able to live forever. I seriously doubt that they are interested in providing this technology to everyone. Something in the hype suggests they will create a totalitarian world where the elite think they will defeat even death. But to save the planet for themselves, they also need to thin the herd.

Living Forever

The Real Agenda

While the politicians talk about climate change is a crisis far worse than COVID, the real crisis is the total destruction of our economy, social structure, and the deliberate strategy to keep the nation divided into groups that oppose each other which will prevent a unified rebellion.

In a recent worker dispute, Amazon's internal documents have come to light where the company rates their stores using a "diversity index," and determined the threat of unionization is "higher" at stores with "lower diversity." This is what the WOKE movement is all about — DIVIDE & CONQUER! Susan E. Reed has put out a book on this strategy that the greater the diversity the less workers will unionize.

Julius Caesar (100–44BC) was able to conquer Gaul despite being outnumbered more than 10 to 1 because the Gauls never united until it was too late. In September 52BC, Julius Caesar defeated Vercingetorix at the Battle of Alesia where his army of 50,000 Romans defeated 200,000 Gauls in what is now modern-day Burgundy, France. The Celtic tribes were never united. Hence, his famous saying – divide and conquer. This is what means the way to defeat these people is also to unite.

The Real Agenda

I seriously doubt that people understand the true implications of how these governments have handled this plan-demic which has a kill ratio of a minimal 0.028%. This has been a grab for power and it will not end with everyone getting vaccinated for they have had to admit that the vaccines will not even prevent death no less contracting COVID and spreading it.

According to The Liberty Daily<sup>5</sup>, every staff member and every guest on a Carnival Cruise ship was vaccinated. Nevertheless, the ship still suffered an outbreak of Covid-19 after departing from Galveston, Texas, on July 31. There were 27 cases of COVID but that may have been an understatement with one 77-year-old passenger died while another was in hospital in Belize and is said to be “in bad shape”. Since then, masks are now needed on Carnival Cruise ships as well as negative tests plus vaccination. This simply illustrates that the vaccines do not do what they have been telling the public.

This pandemic has been orchestrated right from the start. There is credible evidence that this was created in a lab. While it was released in China in order to blame them, the blueprint of this virus is the same that was created in the lab in Canada. If we just follow the money trail, the benefits point to Bill Gates, World Economic Forum, and the entire United Nations groups.

The Real Agenda

When there is a pandemic, the World Health Organization (WHO) gets to keep money and the bondholders lose. At the start of this Pandemic, there were outstanding World Bank Pandemic Bonds which came due for expiration in July 2020. This was in the neighborhood of $500 million which was perhaps a structured derivative time bomb that most people have never heard of.

These pandemic bonds were sold to investors as a giant gamble in the global financial casino. The World Bank sold "pandemic bonds" which were a scheme like no other. In 2017, these bonds were sold to private investors on the premise that they would lose their money if any of six deadly pandemics hit. They did not pay out in 2019 when the Ebola virus broke out in Africa. The World Bank announced the creation of these structured bonds in May 2016 at the G7 Finance Ministers and Central Governors meeting in Sendai, Japan.

The World Health Organization will keep the money and will use it to fight the outbreak if they declare an event is a "pandemic" which is substantially different than an epidemic. If the number of flu-caused deaths exceeds 7.7% of the total, then the United States officially has an epidemic on its hands. A Pandemic has nothing to do with the severity of the outbreak, it simply means that it is occurring over a wide geographic area typically involving multiple countries. They have used the Pandemic to scare people but the death rate is less than half of one percent far from a dangerous epidemic.

WHO Declares COVID-19 a Pandemic

The investors who bought the WHO Pandemic Bonds received regular coupon payments in return, but risked losing their investment if the WHO declares a Pandemic no matter how minor. Thus, there was a financial incentive to hype COVID and declare it a Pandemic to keep at least half-billion dollars. They declare it a Pandemic on March 19th, 2020 in the middle of the COVID Crash in the stock markets.

- Day 1 for the U.S. was March 11, and March 24 was Day 14 of the pandemic.
- For South Korea, Day 1 was Feb. 23.

According to the Federal Reserve, the beginning of claimed COVID deaths was March 11th, 2020. The Federal Reserve reported that the U.S. on Day 14, which would be March 24, saw a total of 706 people had died by then. With the U.S. population at 327 million, the number of deaths was 22 per 10 million people. This did not justify such a panic.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of ST. LOUIS

With only 22 death per 10 million, they launched models that grossly exaggerated the crisis. This opened the door to tyranny and it allowed the WHO to keep all the money from its Pandemic Bonds. The first bond issue raised $225 million and featured an interest rate of around 7% to suck in as many as possible in a world of negative interest rates. The WHO payout on the bond was to be suspended if there is an outbreak of new influenza viruses or coronavirus – note the terms. The second type of bond was even riskier which raised $95 million with an interest rate of more than 11%. This second type of bond keeps investors' money if there is an outbreak of Filovirus, Coronavirus, Lassa Fever, Rift Valley Fever, and/or Crimean Congo Hemorrhagic Fever. In both cases, they included Coronavirus.

Then the World Bank issued $105 million derivative that works in a similar way.

The Real Agenda

It would be in the interest of the World Health Organization to declare this coronavirus a pandemic. They would benefit from the cash. The bondholders will lose. Selling these Pandemic Bonds was a conflict of interest when the WHO is the one that makes that decision. If they declared there was a pandemic, they kept all the money. That was party time.

Then the United Nation's Green Climate Fund of the wrote on April 10th, 2020, about only one month into this "plan-demic" that this would be a great opportunity to shut down society and build back better GREEN of course.

While COVID-19 is causing untold suffering, the international response to this unprecedented health crisis in modern times offers an opportunity to direct finances towards bolstering climate action. GCF will continue to make critical investments in climate-resilient water resource management, health care facilities, agriculture and livelihoods – all of which are essential to subduing and overcoming the pandemic. Similarly, we will step up our efforts to catalyse green investment to relaunch economies on low-emission, climate-resilient trajectories.<sup>6</sup>

Then on June 3rd, 2020<sup>7</sup>, Klaus Schwab released his Great Reset of the World Economic Forum once more that this was a great opportunity to use COVID to restructure the economy from scratch.

The Real Agenda

The New York Times actually reported that the “Great Reset” was a “baseless” conspiracy theory. They wrote:

On Monday morning, the phrase “The Great Reset” trended with nearly 80,000 tweets, with most of the posts coming from familiar far-right internet personalities. The conspiracy alleges that a cabal of elites has long planned for the pandemic so that they could use it to impose their global economic control on the masses. In some versions of the unfounded rumor, it is only President Trump who is thwarting this plan and keeping the scheme at bay.

The “Great Reset” was surfacing by May when it was reported that dozens of the world’s leaders in business, finance and politics were to gather on June 3, 2020 the very day Schwab posted his video – the Great Reset on YouTube. They were to discuss how the global economy can be “reset”— with climate change as the main theme as nations recover from the coronavirus pandemic. This online event was also hosted by His Royal Highness Charles, Prince of Wales, with Klaus Schwab and his infamous World Economic Forum (WEF).

Indeed, by the end of that month following the June 3rd meeting with Schwab and his WEF plus Prince Charles, on June 30th, 2020 Boris Johnson, British Prime Minister/Dictator, then came and announced his now infamous Build Back Better agenda. Based on personal reliable sources who attended the January 2019 Davos meeting, the very slogan “Build Back Better” was floated and being talked about at that time.

It is very curious that the New York Times immediately called it all a conspiracy theory crafter by far-right opposition groups. This was probably the worst reporting they have done since endorsing Stalin.

The Real Agenda

The standard definition of a “conspiracy” is simply “An agreement to perform together an illegal, wrongful, or subversive act.” Never before in the history of world politics have, we EVER witnessed all the world leaders mouthing the very same words – BUILD BACK BETTER which was a slogan made by Schwab and his World Economic Forum.

Even John Kerry, who was appointed the Climate Czar, has point blank stated that the Biden Administration is fully on board with Schwab Great Reset. Never in the history of the United States has any president signed up for an agenda of a foreign nation, moved to fully collapse the US economy and “build back better” without any right for the people to vote on this agenda. This is the very definition of tyranny – not democracy. This is what is wrong with our fake democratic governments – they have eliminated the right of the people to vote on their own future.

The Creation of the Euro

Helmut Kohl
(1930 - 2017)
ArmstrongEconomics.COM

What most people do not realize is that creating the Euro was never submitted to the German people to decide. Helmut Kohl (1930–2017), Germany's former chancellor, admitted that he acted like a "dictator" to create the Euro. Kohl said:

"I knew that I could never win a referendum in Germany," he said. "We would have lost a referendum on the introduction of the Euro. That's quite clear. I would have lost and by seven to three."

This is like Helmut Kohl (1930–2017) committing Germany to the Euro denying the people a right to ever vote. He told the world that the euro was simply the greatest thing that would ever exist in Europe, that it would be economically stable, dynamic, and would promote a growth-oriented environment that he said would be the "event of the century". Kohl admitted that if he allowed the German people to vote on joining the Euro, he would have lost. He also admitted that he acted like a "dictator" to push the agenda he and the elite thought was best.

This is the very same tactic they are employing to push the Great Reset upon Western Society wiping out jobs they deem are a threat to the environment like coal mining, oil produce, and car manufacturing with combustion engines. This is the agenda and the very fact that people call it a conspiracy theory proves they are just part of the agenda to deny the people the right to even know what is really taking place.

However, behind this facade is the argument for a one-world government BECAUSE this is a planetary effort so no single country can solve the problem. This means, conveniently, that the United Nations seeks to be the unelected ruler over the entire world and is pushing for 10% of all taxation to flow to them.

Exclusive: Samples From Early Wuhan COVID Patients Had Genetically Modified Henipah, One of Two Types of Viruses Sent From Canadian Lab

Initially, another thing the press immediately called a “conspiracy theory” which seems to always come true, was an alleged link between the lab in Canada and Wuhan. The samples of the first version of COVID match what was created in the National Microbiology Laboratory in Canada. Also buried deep in the story is that the scientist Dr. Frank Plummer (1952–2020) was the director of Canada’s National Microbiology Lab, to whom the Gates Foundation handed a grant of $8.3 million. He died in Kenya within weeks after the official start of the 2019 coronavirus outbreak on February 4th, 2020, which happened weeks after a Gates Foundation simulation of a coronavirus outbreak.

As the story goes, Frank Plummer was the one who acquired the SARS coronavirus sample from an alleged Saudi patient at the NML Winnipeg Lab from Ron Fouchier, who was a leading virologist at the Erasmus Medical Center (EMC) in Rotterdam, the Netherlands.

Dr. Francis Allan Plummer

The Real Agenda

Fouchier was said to have been sent the virus by Egyptian virologist Dr. Ali Mohamed Zaki who isolated and identified a previously unknown type of coronavirus from the Saudi patient's lungs. Allegedly, Fouchier sequenced the virus from that sample sent by Zaki. This was the coronavirus sample that arrived at Canada's NML Winnipeg facility on May 4, 2013.

It was said that Frank Plummer is the one who received the sample. The Canadian lab grew and stocked the virus and used it to assess diagnostic tests being used in Canada. Winnipeg scientists worked to see which animal species could be infected with the new virus.

While the allegation has been that the National Microbiology Laboratory was targeted by Chinese agents in what could be termed as biological espionage, the claim that the virus was stolen from the Canadian lab by a Chinese biowarfare agent Xiangguo Qiu and her colleagues have sought to pin the blame on China.

If this was the source that was smuggled to the Wuhan Institute of Virology, the conspiracy claim that it was the Chinese who weaponized and leaked the virus does not jive with the sources I have who knew in advance that the virus was coming, all of which had nothing to do with a deliberate act by China.

Supposedly Alexander Kagansky, a Russian working on the virus, was allegedly stabbed and thrown from the window of his 14th floor flat. In Pennsylvania, Professor Bing Liu of the University of Pittsburgh was on the verge of a breakthrough in a scientific understanding of the new coronavirus but was shot dead.

Then a World Health Organization (WHO) driver carrying coronavirus samples was shot dead in Myanmar. The WHO vehicle was carrying coronavirus test samples when it came under attack. The WHO confirmed that Pyae Sone Win Maung died of his injuries from the attack. Reuters reported<sup>8</sup> that the vehicle had come under gunfire. Why attack a van carrying COVID samples? This was April 2020 within just 4 weeks of the COVID Crash.

The Real Agenda

Then there is the mysterious co-incident death of all four African heads of state who spoke out against the COVID lockdowns and experimental vaccines. Very strange for so many people to be dying who opposed or perhaps had evidence against the narrative. Naturally, it is always a conspiracy theory, so the mainstream press need not waste it's time to investigate anything.

Emails that have emerged show that a statement in The Lancet authored by 27 prominent public health scientists condemning "conspiracy theories suggesting that COVID-19 does not have a natural origin" was organized by employees of

EcoHealth Alliance, which is a non-profit group that just so happened to have received millions of dollars of US taxpayer funding to genetically manipulate coronaviruses with scientists at the Wuhan Institute of Virology. Talk about conflicts of interest! Peter Daszak is the President of EcoHealth Alliance, and he sent nearly $600,000 to Wuhan, which is alleged to have been the source.

Ron Fouchier has admitted to creating killer viruses at the Erasmus Medical Center in Rotterdam to see what would happen if the H5N1 bird flu virus mutated and had the ability to spread in mammals. His involvement in COVID and Frank Plummer has also been avoided in any investigation. Why these people want to create such dangerous viruses to see what MIGHT happen in the real world is like the story of Dr. Frankenstein — they want to see if they could replace God in creation.

Interestingly, the earliest samples from early Wuhan COVID-19 patients show the presence of genetically modified henipah virus, which is one of the two types of viruses sent to China from the Canadian laboratory that was run by the conveniently now-dead Frank Plummer. They cannot swear that this virus discovered in the Chinese samples comes from the Canadian lab back in late March 2019.

This entire escapade appears to be a deliberate leak and it WAS NOT by the Chinese. If China wanted to unleash a biological weapon, they could easily target a specific gene sequence that would eliminate even a specific ethnic group. This is a standard coronavirus that resides in animals and will NEVER be eliminated. It is a respiratory virus that will kill similar people who would have died because of the flu.

China Warns of Retaliation Ahead of U.S. Report on Virus Origins

Bloomberg News
August 25, 2021, 6:15 AM EDT

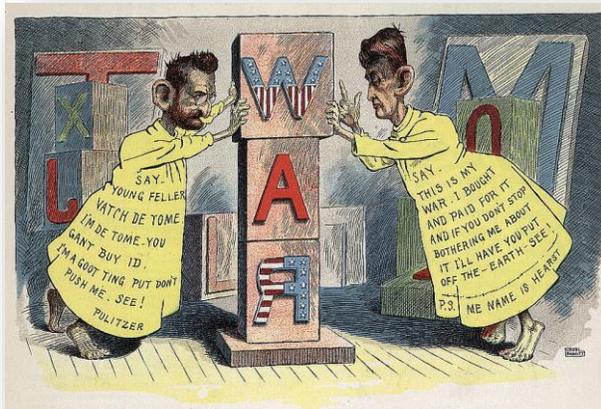

China has come out and threatened retaliation over blaming them for releasing COVID. All you have to do is follow the money trail and this leads to the Big Pharma, World Economic Forum, United Nations, and the Gates Foundation. They all have gained substantially from COVID — not the Chinese.

Because China has rejected the Great Reset and handing its sovereignty to Schwab's United Nations proxy, it appears that they are deliberately trying to create war

The fact that mainstream media is behind this effort should be no surprise. It was not just the New York Times who was the champion of Stalin and believed that Communism was the answer to the Great Depression back in the 1930s, but going back further in time the Spanish-American war was deliberately created by the press to simply sell more papers.

The Pulitzer prize was created because he was the real father of fake news and he left his fortune to create a prize to pretend he was a good journalist who did not engage in yellow journalism.

Divide & Conquer

The Biden Administration said it was in the middle and that he would be the President for everyone. That has been shown to be nothing but standard political propaganda. Never before in history has government been able to use a virus to transform the nature of society from free to totalitarian. Police are beating people all in the name of trying to protect them.

They are trying to ensure that they keep society angry and divided always blaming the other group. They believe they will be able to create endless emergencies of new variants resistant to the current vaccines, for viruses are a form of life that will adapt to carry out their objective — to reduce the population whenever possible.

They will attempt new lockdowns but even these are starting to wear thin. As we enter 2022, instead of a few weeks, this is entering its third years. They know their window is closing and it appears that from November 2021, they will try to step up the game before they lose all credibility.

Where governments were once there to protect society from untested drugs, today they are in league with the pharmaceutical industry because it justifies their power. The discussion of climate change and overpopulation continues behind the curtain but the real agenda is that the financial system is collapsing. They know they will no longer be able to borrow endlessly. This time, the end goal is a feudal-capitalistic system where the great unwashed are converted into raw economic slaves with no right to vote.

COVID Passports

There is something seriously wrong that this COVID disease is not serious insofar as the death rate is less than 1% yet the way it has been blown out of all context involving governments on a global scale raises the real question of conspiracy. In Britain, they looked at the COVID pass the government created and it contained everything about you from sexual preferences to even allegations of criminal conduct at any time in your past not charged or convicted. If you smoked pot when it was a crime, but not charged, even something like that would be noted in your COVID pass.

This has been a worldwide movement by governments to create COVID passports and restrict all movement unless you are vaccinated against a disease that is not that serious. In Canada, they called for an election and then days before deny you the right to go to a public facility without a Covid pass.

Why Are Boosters Being Given After 8 Months? Experts Weigh In

By Damian McNamara

Meanwhile, Pfizer is telling governments the vaccine will only last for 8 months. That means, you will constantly need vaccine shots for the rest of your life to be able to even travel? Then Pfizer is creating pills that you will need to take daily just to be able to work?

There are no long-term studies about these experimental vaccines and there is no guarantee that they will not alter what they do in the future. The one thing for certain is that governments are NOT concerned about the health of the people. This is a money game all about power.

President Biden just in July swore to the American people he would never make vaccines mandatory. Then by September he orders mandatory vaccines even with no exceptions and tells the American people his “patience” is not limitless.

In Slovenia, the COVID pass must be shown even to buy gasoline. Clearly, this is all about restricting the freedom of people. It has nothing to do with health.

The reason for all of this restriction is not that difficult to see. Socialism is collapsing. Western governments can no longer afford to keep borrowing year after year with no intention of paying anything back. The European Central Bank under Draghi took interest rates NEGATIVE in 2014 and it failed to stimulate the economy but succeeded in destroying the European Bond market. Unable to issue debt to pay off the old, the ONLY way to prevent a revolution is to move toward a totalitarian government.

For years, these governments have been blaming the rich and never themselves. So, they have successfully created class warfare that is metastasizing into real class hatred. Equality is no longer about human rights; it is now simply all about material possessions. The definition of the "rich" has always been someone who has more than the observer. Once Draghi took rates negative in 2014, we are approach 8.6 years of negative rates that have wiped out socialism.

Does capitalism need some Marxism to survive the Fourth Industrial Revolution?

Klaus Schwab's World Economic Forum is pushing Marxism as the replacement for Capitalism. Schwab points only at the private sector and argues that it is the inequality that is tearing the system apart – not government mismanagement and lies. The World Economic Forum is selling Marxism stated bluntly:

“No doubt students of capitalism will be experiencing a pang of déjà vu about now. For it was Karl Marx himself that first grappled with capitalism’s internal contradictions some time between the first and second industrial revolutions. Marx observed that capitalists paid workers less than the value of their labour in order to make a profit. When expressed cumulatively, it meant workers would be unable to afford the very goods they produced in the first place.”<sup>9</sup>

This view that labor is being cheated totally disregards all other aspects of commerce. Even if we take Amazon and argue that workers are being cheated because they do not get 100% of all profits, they ignore the fact that first someone has to come up with the idea of selling online assuming there is a network system where such offering could be made. Someone has to invent something and then they hire people to bring it to market. None of the intellectual aspects are ever considered to be worth anything.

We must also realize that when Karl Marx made his observations during the mid-19th century, 70% of GDP in the United States was agrarian. This was just the beginning of the industrial revolution. Marx's views were shaped by the writings of even Aristotle who saw the birth of a market economy and brokers who would buy crops and resell to others offshore. Aristotle called them the people who made money from money. This entire idea of socialism completely fails to understand even how markets and economies evolve.

<sup>9</sup> <https://www.weforum.org/agenda/2016/06/could-capitalism-need-some-marxism-to-survive-the-4th-industrial-revolution/>

Most boys grew up knowing the name of Babe Ruth during the 20th century. We remember him because he was better than everyone else in his time. People would flock to see him play. Under Marxism, that was not fair. He should never have been paid more and nobody should remember his name because we are all equal – worker bees in a hive.

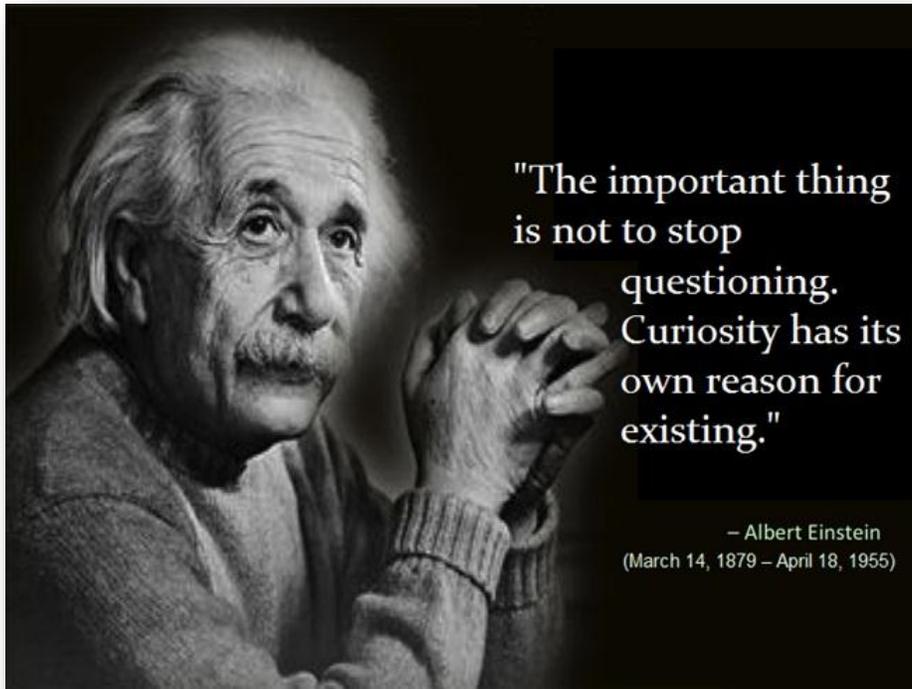

I personally remember going to see Frank Sinatra at the Latin Casino in Cherry Hill, New Jersey. I will always remember that night but I do not remember someone playing in some bar I might have been in with my friends back then. If genius is not rewarded, there is no incentive to strive to reach some position when such people often serve as role models.

John F. Kennedy in Willingboro, New Jersey on Oct. 16, 1960

Bill Clinton said he shook the hand of John F. Kennedy and that inspired him to become president. I too shook hands with JFK in Willingboro, New Jersey on Oct. 16, 1960. I was not inspired to get into politics or become president. To each his own. Yet Kennedy no doubt inspired others to get into politics. Marxism totally ignores humanity. Without inspiration, society will never expand.

If we are not inspired and don't have curiosity to explore and try to figure out how things work, then there will never be any invention. There are NO major innovations that were ever discovered under Communism. All such innovations from trains and steam engines, the combustion engine, the discovery that crude oil could replace whale oil, the invention of the computer and the development of even artificial intelligence, all of this came ONLY from the free world. Not a single invention or innovation ever came from a Communist world. Unrestrained individualism and motivation no less dreaming of a future was ever tolerated under communism.

People like Schwab who did not live under Communism never understand the horrors of denying individualism. Indeed, the Prague memorial to the victims of Communism under Marxism would be melted down for scrap metal.

COVID Passports

At this point, it appears that on a global scale, governments are taking steps to restrict movement in what they see as the inevitable collapse of capitalism as we have known it. Rather than reform and address the debt crisis, they have chosen the path of totalitarianism championed by Klaus Schwab and his World Economic Forum.

Solution to the Monetary Crisis Cycle

For the past 10 years, I have attended meetings about this debt crisis we face and how to resolve the problem. In 2015, I held a Solution Conference to inform our clients of what was at stake. It was clear to me back then that what was taking place was that I was up against Klaus Schwab and his World Economic Forum that was arguing to default of the debt, strip the people of assets, and create a two-tier system of wealth of the Great Unwashed and that could all be justified by calling it "equality" with the exception of the elite political class that was naturally needed to run everything.

My solution was they would end debt, reduce their power, and save the future. They choose Schwab for his solution which elevated them to a lofty status as if they were the demigods of Green mythology.

There has been a very consistent 18-year Monetary Crisis Cycle running through currencies. Granted, there were extended periods of fixed exchange rates where the target can be identified by the economic pressures taking place at that time. The 1985 turning point was the formation of the G5 at the Plaza Accord with the intent to lower the value of the dollar by 40% to reduce the US trade deficit.

Nevertheless, the Plaza Accord took place in August 1985 when the dollar had already turned. As the dollar declined significantly, the G5 then held the Louvre Accord agreement, signed on February 22, 1987 in Paris, which aimed to stabilize the international currency markets and halt the continued decline of the US Dollar which was the goal of the Plaza Accord. The agreement was signed by France, West Germany, Japan, Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom. Italy declined to sign the agreement. What became self-evident was the fact that the attempts by governments to manipulate the currencies failed. They merely scared the capital markets and caused the Japanese to sell US assets taking the money back home which led to the 1989 Bubble in the Japanese share market.

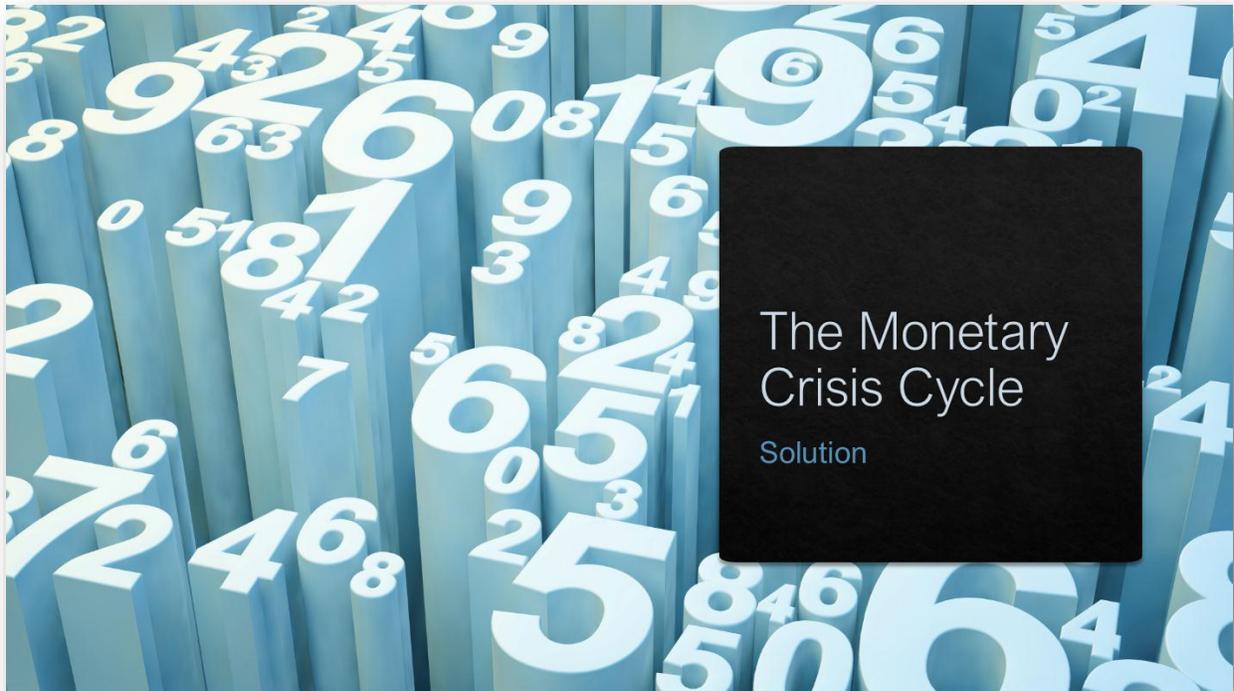

The 18-Year Monetary Crisis Cycle is self-evident in the British pound. Here were the 1931 Sovereign Debt defaults, the 1949 currency devaluation followed by the devaluation of 1967 until the major turning point in 1985 when the pound fell to $1.03 against the US dollar. The turning points have unfolded like clockwork and the next one is due in 2021.

Thus far, we have witnessed this Monetary Cycle unfold like clockwork. The urgent push for cryptocurrency is obviously on target since this is dealing with the monetary system. In addition, we have government spending rising exponentially, and tax revenue declining thanks to lockdowns and the collapse in the supply-chain for just about everything resulting in inflation, and we have stood by silently as these people have launched a full-scale attack on the energy sector under the claim of climate change. It is curious where they have established that smoking causes cancer but there is no move for zero tolerance of cigarettes, pipes, and cigars.

I believe that while I have written about this cycle and have shown its incredible regularity at meetings with government over my more than 40 year career, they certainly knew what was coming and it has been argued that they used this cycle with the Economic Confidence Model to pinpoint when they needed to act starting 2020.05.

Their solution is simply to seize everything and they have already told you their 8-point agenda for 2030.

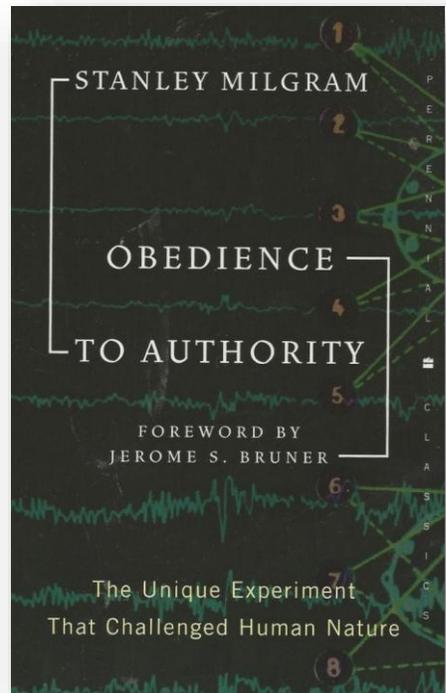

1. "You'll own nothing" — And "you'll be happy about it."
2. "The U.S. won't be the world's leading superpower"
3. "You won't die waiting for an organ donor" — They will be made by 3D printers
4. "You'll eat much less meat" — Meat will be "an occasional treat, not a staple, for the good of the environment and our health."
5. "A billion people will be displaced by climate change" — Soros' Open Borders
6. "Polluters will have to pay to emit carbon dioxide" — "There will be a global price on carbon. This will help make fossil fuels history"
7. "You could be preparing to go to Mars" — Scientists "will have worked out how to keep you healthy in space."
8. "Western values will have been tested to the breaking point." — "Checks and balances that underpin our democracies must not be forgotten"

I am deeply concerned that this is what always comes from academics who simply talk among themselves and have never actually worked among the common people. They always assume that the common people are really the Great Unwashed, too stupid to understand no less comprehend the magnitude of their vision.

It is shocking that 50% of the population just believes whatever the government tells them. They invest no original thought and simply obey. It is the classic response as Stanley Milgram discovered in his Obedience to Authority while investigating the Germans who offered a defense as Nazis – I was following orders.

From November 2021, we are turning into the eye of the storm so to speak. The great push to exterminate currency, move to cryptocurrency that they can trace and control what you are allowed to buy or sell. Then they will permanently default on the entire idea of debt and adopt the Modern Monetary Theory where they just create money to cover their expenses annually.

Solution to the Monetary Crisis Cycle

CONCLUSION

CONCLUSION

Back in 2019, we warned that the 37.33 Year Monetary Crisis Cycle target for 2008 with the 13-Year Interval points to 2021 as does the 18-Year Monetary Crisis Cycle. We have the Monetary Reform Cycle which appears to target 2020 for the start of this problem and 2026/2027 as perhaps the final culmination of this trend.

We further warned that this crisis appeared to be emanating from Europe most likely the result of the structural flaws underlying the Euro and the negative interest rates imposed back in 2014. Back in that report we also wrote:

“There will be calls for the elimination of paper currency to save the day because the Keynesian Model has failed. They will never admit that is the case so to compel by force to prevent hoarding will be the outcome. We should expect to lose more rights as this process unfolds. By the time we reach 2032, the decline and fall of Western Society will become obvious to one and all.”

So far, unfortunately everything is on track. They are now pushing very hard to alter the economy and force upon everyone COVID Passports to restrict movement in hope of heading off any revolution when the people realize their entire future has been changed denied any right to even object.
