

Model Information Session with Erwin Pletsch

Saturday, 12 November 8:30 – 9:30 am

Q & A Session with Erwin Pletsch

Sunday, 13 November 8:30 – 9:30 am

These sessions will be presented live and accessible online to all Virtual Plus ticket holders within the 'Event App' via livestream. A recording will be provided after the session.

Invitation to join the Event App sent via email to all attendees from 'Mobile Event App Team'

Please note: This session can only be access through the Event app, not through the event ticket.

Please send your questions for the Q&A session over Slido.

Two ways to join Slido:

- 1) Go directly to the Slido App (see Slido flyer for instructions)
- 2) Go to 'Q&A – Slido' from within the 2021 WEC Event App

These sessions will be led by Erwin Pletsch and will include a review of the models and terminology heard over the course of the event and found within the Socrates Platform. Erwin has over 30 years of experience using Socrates's models. The purpose of this session is to further enhance your experience at the WEC and answer questions surrounding these topics so attendees can get the most out of the event.

As a reminder, we are not a financial advisory firm, so we will not answer questions related to specific individual investment or trades. We ask you to keep your questions on topic - specifically how to best utilize the Socrates platform and interpret the different information available within it - this will enable us to try and make the session as smooth as possible and allow for ample time to cover all appropriate information.

Disclaimer: Any views expressed by Mr. Erwin Pletsch are the personal views and interpretations of Mr. Erwin Pletsch. He is not acting for or speaking on behalf of Martin Armstrong, Armstrong Economics, or AE Global Solutions, Inc. Moreover, these presentations / sessions are for general circulation. As such, the views expressed by Mr. Pletsch, along with any other presenter and, any related materials or communications, are generalized and are not particularized or meant for any specific customer, system of trading, transaction or series of transactions. Accordingly, the attendee of any such session and/or reader of any such materials, and/or recipient of any such communications must decide for himself or herself how, if, when and why the information provided might be relevant to their unique circumstances and goals. These sessions, presentations, materials, and communications are not financial advisory or personalized recommendations, nor are they solicitations for any investment or financial transaction.